Version 2.1a, Clinician Form

for International Classification of Functioning, Disability and Health

This is a checklist of major categories of the International Classification of Functioning, Disability and Health (ICF) of the World Health Organization. The ICF Checklist is a practical tool to elicit and record information on the functioning and disability of an individual. This information can be summarized for case records (for example, in clinical practice or social work). The checklist should be used along with the ICF or ICF Pocket version.

PART 1a: IMPAIRMENTS of BODY FUNCTIONS

- Body functions are the physiological functions of body systems (including psychological functions).
- Impairments are problems in body function as a significant deviation or loss.

First Qualifier: Extent of impairments

0 No impairment means the person has no problem

1 Mild impairment means a problem that is present less than 25% of the time, with an intensity a person can tolerate and which happens rarely over the last 30 days.

2 Moderate impairment means that a problem that is present less than 50% of the time, with an intensity, which is interfering in the persons day to day life and which happens occasionally over the last 30 days.

3 Severe impairment means that a problem that is present more than 50% of the time, with an intensity, which is partially disrupting the persons day to day life and which happens frequently over the last 30 days.

4 Complete impairment means that a problem that is present more than 95% of the time, with an intensity, which is totally disrupting the persons day to day life and which happens every day over the last 30 days.

8 Not specified means there is insufficient information to specify the severity of the impairment.

9 Not applicable means it is inappropriate to apply a particular code (e.g. b650 Menstruation functions for woman in pre-menarche or post-menopause age).

PART 2: ACTIVITY LIMITATIONS & PARTICIPATION RESTRICTION

- Activity is the execution of a task or action by an individual.. Participation is involvement in a life situation.
- Activity limitations are difficulties an individual may have in executing activities. Participation restrictions are problems an individual may have in involvement in life situations.

The Performance qualifier indicates the extent of Participation restriction by describing the persons actual performance of a task or action in his or her current environment. Because the current environment brings in the societal context, performance can also be understood as "involvement in a life situation" or "the lived experience" of people in the actual context in which they live. This context includes the environmental factors – all aspects of the physical, social and attitudinal world that can be coded using the Environmental. The Performance qualifier measures the difficulty the respondent experiences in doing things, assuming that they want to do them.

The Capacity qualifier indicates the extent of Activity limitation by describing the person ability to execute a task or an action. The Capacity qualifier focuses on limitations that are inherent or intrinsic features of the person themselves. These limitations should be direct manifestations of the respondent's health state, without the assistance. By assistance we mean the help of another person, or assistance provided by an adapted or specially designed tool or vehicle, or any form of environmental modification to a room, home, workplace etc.. The level of capacity should be judged relative to that normally expected of the person, or the person's capacity before they acquired their health condition.

Note: Use Appendix 2 if needed to elicit information on the Activities and Participation of the individual

Appendix 2:

GENERAL QUESTIONS FOR PARTICIPATION & ACTIVITIES

The following probes are proposed as a guide to help the examiner when interviewing the respondent about problems in functioning and life activities, in terms of the distinction between capacity and performance. Take into account all personal information known about the respondent and ask any additional probes as necessary. Probes should be rephrased as open-ended questions if necessary to elicit greater information.

Under each domain there are two kinds of probes:

The first probe tries to get the respondent to focus on his or her capacity to do a task or action, and in particular to focus on limitations in capacity that are inherent or intrinsic features of the person themselves. These limitations should be direct manifestations of the respondent's health state, without the assistance. By assistance we mean the help of another person, or assistance provided by an adapted or specially designed tool or vehicle, or any form of environmental modification to a room, home, workplace and so on. The level of capacity should be judged relative to that normally expected of the person, or the person's capacity before they acquired their health condition.

The second probe focuses on the respondent's actual performance of a task or action in the person's actual situation or surroundings, and elicits information about the effects of environmental barriers or facilitators. It is important to emphasize that you are only interested in the extent of difficulty the respondent has in doing things, assuming that they want to do them. Not doing something is irrelevant if the person chooses not to do it.

GUIDELINES FOR THE USE OF ICF CHECKLIST VERSION 2.1A

- 1. This is a checklist of major categories of International Classification of Functioning, Disability and Health (ICF) of the World Health Organization . The ICF Checklist is a practical tool to elicit and record information on the functioning and disability of an individual. This information can be summarized for case records (for example, in clinical practice or social work).*
- 2. This version (2.1a) is for use by a clinician, health or social care professional.*
- 3. The checklist should be used along with the ICF full or short version which is scheduled for publication in September 2001. Until then the ICIDH-2 Final Draft, full version, WHO, 2001 will serve as reference document for the ICF checklist. The raters should familiarize themselves with the ICIDH-2 Final Draft by attending a brief educational programme or self-taught curriculum.*
- 4. All information from written records, primary respondent, other informants and direct observation can be used to fill in the checklist. Please record all sources of information used on the first page.*
- 5. Parts 1 to 3 should be filled in by writing the qualifier code against each of the function, structure, activity and participation term that shows some problem for the case being evaluated. Appropriate codes for the qualifiers are given on the relevant pages.*
- 6. Comments can be made regarding any information that can serve as the additional qualifier or that is thought to be significant for the case being evaluated.*
- 7. Part 4 (Environment) has both negative (barrier) and positive (facilitator) qualifier codes. For all positive qualifier codes, please use a plus (+) sign before the code.*
- 8. The categories given in the checklist have been selected from the ICF and are not exhaustive. If you need to use a category that you do not find listed here, use the space at the end of each dimension to record these.*
